

Roof Storm Damage Checklist

After a storm, it is imperative to promptly and safely assess the condition of your roof to prevent further damage. Contact a trusted, professional roofing contractor to schedule an inspection and help you with damage assessment.

Roof

Visually assess your roof by walking around the perimeter of your house and taking note of any visible storm damage.

Gutters, Vents, and Windows

Examine your home's gutters and roofing accessories like gable vents and eaves for any indentations. Also, assess your windows for any signs of damage, such as, shattered glass, compromised weather-stripping, or ripped screens.

Attic and Ceilings

Check your attic and interior ceilings for leaks or water stains, as they may indicate damage not visible from the outside.

Schedule a Roof Inspection

Contact a trusted, professional roofing contractor to schedule an inspection and help you with damage assessment.

Call Your Insurance Provider

If you find significant damage to your home after a storm, promptly contact your homeowners' insurance provider so you can properly file a claim based on their requirements.
